PRINCIPAL'S NEWS

28 July 2023

Queensland's Catholic Education Week was celebrated this week under the theme of Communities of Faith, Hope and Love. In reading a media release from Director Ms. Leesa Jeffcoat, I learnt that the Diocese of Rockhampton (CEDR) includes 20 000 students, staff and volunteers in regional, rural and remote centres from Mackay to Bundaberg and west to Longreach. This reminded me of the Paul Kelly song 'From Little Things Big Things Grow' inspired by the personal sacrifice made by Vincent Lingiari, for a better tomorrow for First Nations People. Similarly, Catherine McAuley generously gave of an inheritance left to her, to build one 'small' Catholic school in Baggot Street, Ireland. This one 'little thing' certainly spread and grew into our own amazing little Catholic Education, place in space, Saint Patrick's.

This week students spread the Catholic Education Week magic, out to significant others in our community. Students made cards and deliveries, to the staff and students at Shalom College, St Mary's and St Joseph's, Patients, Doctors, and Nurses throughout the local hospitals, our friends at Carinbundi, Fr Don White and the staff at the Bundaberg Catholic Parish Office, Local Police Officers, Ambulance Officers and Local SES Volunteers, as well as the lovely neighbours that surround our school grounds.

Catholic Education Week also brought a straight flush in 'First Place' silverware for all four amazing routines performed by our musically inclined students. Kate Hardisty and Jed Morley did an amazing job of preparing our students not only in their level of skill but also in the way they represented St. Patrick's. It was so wonderful to witness, firsthand, how impressive these students were, and they are not only a credit to our school community but to their parents who support them all the way. Read on for more exciting details of these events and how they unfolded this week.

Please remember to save the date (Tuesday 15th August) for Dr. Justin Coulson's upcoming Parent Session, as outlined below. Refer back to last week's newsletter to access links to Justin's session summary, which promises to deliver practical advice for our parent body.

Catholic Education Week

23 – 29 July 2023

What an exciting week we have had celebrating Catholic Education Week. The week began with a special message from Sr Mary who set some acts of kindness challenges. We were lead in a beautiful Courtyard Prayer by 3C who highlighted how amazing Catholic schools are and how blessed we are to be involved in our wonderful, friendly St Patrick's community. Our Mini Vinnies Team have been sensational, working hard selling Kindness Cupcakes and organising special little thankyou's for the entire staff. The Team sold over 700 Kindness cupcakes! A cheeky leprechaun has been hiding joy gems around the school in an effort for us to realise that when we work together we can achieve great things. Sr Mary joined us for a fleeting visit before prayer on Thursday to also remind us to work together to keep our school strong. There has been a certain energy and electricity in the air this week and it has been just lovely to see so many happy and excited faces. I just love how our school creates a sense of community.

Senior & Junior Choir

The Junior choir were the first group from St Patrick's to compete in this year's Eisteddfod. This amazing group of smiley, happy children, some who are only in Prep, definitely took their A Game onto the stage. They sang energetically, with emotion and control, demonstrating the beautiful tone that they are developing with their voices. They watched me the whole time and were so super focused for such a young group. I couldn't be any prouder of their achievement.

The Senior Choir had to wait until the next day for their turn to shine, and shine they did. It is such an honour to watch these students develop vocally over their primary years, many of them joining the choir when they were in Prep. Our Senior Choir nailed their harmonies and sang so beautifully. I'm proud of their constant commitment to singing and their enthusiasm. I am also proud of the way the Senior Choir conducted themselves at the Eisteddfod, congratulating and praising other groups on their performances. I appreciate every single one of them and am so grateful to get to work with such a lovely group of children.

Both groups received First Place. They were amazing!

Mrs Morley

Senior & Junior Strings

As the Junior String students arrived at school Monday morning they were filled with excitement, anticipation and for some, nerves for their performance at the Bundaberg Eisteddfod. Proudly wearing their performance uniforms for the first time and instruments in hand, they engaged the audience from the moment they were on the stage of the Moncrieff Theatre. Their performance as described by the adjudicator was 'well balanced with a lovely strong tone, full of energy and advanced for a group at this level'. I couldn't be more proud of their performance both on and off the stage.

When the Senior Strings arrived for their performance after lunch on Monday, they were focused and eager to get on the stage of the Moncrieff Theatre. From the very first note they played, they were confident and committed to their outstanding performance. This group plays to a standard far beyond their years and this because of their dedication, love and enjoyment of playing their instrument. The adjudicator was incredibly impressed with their stage presence, advanced bowing abilities and secure intonation (playing in tune). Like the students, I was beaming after their fantastic performance.

Both groups received 1st place with 93/100. Congratulations.

Mrs Hardisty, Mrs Connolly & Mr Goodall
